Is your pharmacy provider helping your hospice succeed?

If any of these statements is true, your patients could be receiving better care.

- 1. My pharmacy provider slows nurses down by requiring phone calls to the pharmacy when placing orders, or to the PBM for non-formulary approval.
- 2. My low pharmacy bill is in part due to limited services provided by my pharmacy provider and/or a limited formulary.
- 3. My pharmacy provider pushes most scripts to mail order, slowing down the process for getting medications to patients.
- 4. My pharmacy provider doesn't help nurses achieve better work/life balance, increasing my risk of turnover.
- 5. My pharmacy provider knows that my most important priority is fast symptom relief for my patients, but doesn't have the tools necessary to help me achieve it.
- 6. My pharmacy provider doesn't speed up the fulfillment of medications by eliminating phone calls and handling rejections.
- 7. My pharmacy provider makes more money when nurses order more medications - or more expensive medications - than necessary.

Don't you want a pharmacy provider that will help your hospice succeed?

Shane Jensen, PharmD
